

they are, be just another cutey music
I needed someone who could bring some aggression and some street smartness to the song. Immediately I thought of Regina, and Peter was a huge fan of Regina as well. She heard about the song and the film and just went for it. I was so happy about that. She came in the studio and was just lovely, and we recorded the vocals live together in just a couple of hours. She is one of the greatest performers and songwriters on the planet right now.

SL: I've just been so fortunate to be able to travel the world and play my music and share it with people in all kinds of ways. To take it in this direction, you can't really predict or even dream up the things I find happen to me. I found myself sitting on the set with Dane Cook and Steve [Carell] playing 'Let My Love Open the Door' on set. I was playing my guitar off camera, and I was
